www.wibc.academy
affordable quality online training

rome lives on authored by wibc

free to distribute and use

In Remembrance of Jesus Christ

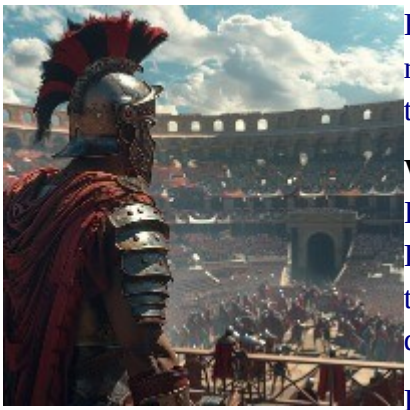
If you think Rome is in the past... Think again.!



Rome is very much alive today, and it is still enforcing its laws and regime. It is still going for Christians in alliance with those who say they are Jews, and are not.

What do we mean by this?
In the times of Jesus, the chief priests and the Pharisees pushed Rome into crucifying Jesus. This was done for no just reason except those of the flesh where Pride and Envy, Jealousy and Covetous dwell.

Digging into scripture we can see that the Pharisees blackmailed Pontius Pilot into proceeding with the persecution of Jesus by using Romes rules and laws against him.

Ref: a good book to read is: Cutting the Lair cake some content taken from course 600ThreeScoreAnd6

Matthew 27:17,18 (KJV)

Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them,
Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?
For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.

Matthew 27:20-22 (KJV)

But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.
The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you?
They said, Barabbas.
Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.

Pontius Pilate wanted no part in the death of Jesus, and washed his hands of the whole affair, yet still the chief priests and the Pharisees pushed Rome into crucifying Jesus. In the end, they used blackmail and Roman law against Pilate in order to force him to proceed with the crucifixion.

John 19:7-12 (KJV)

The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cæsar.

Back in the time of Jesus, Rome was vast and strong. Move forward in today's world, and you have to look a bit harder and pay attention to detail. Rome is still ruling, from the USA, the Vatican, and UK. Rome is all around the world still showing its symbolism and dominance. It's greatly hidden in comparison to times past, and we will first show some of the clues as to where Romes ruling factions are. We are still influenced by Rome's existing presence today, in ways oblivious, and other ways, not so.

Departments, offices and organisations, show you who is ruling, if you just open your eyes.

The Roman Fasces symbolism

"the weapon used by Roman soldiers when keeping order"

You can see in the Senate chambers they have the Roman Fasces on the wall either side of the flag, and at the entrance way. This is the symbol of the weapon used by Roman soldiers when keeping order amongst crowds or protesters, and when guarding areas and entrances.

It's a very predominant symbol, in a place that makes decisions that impacts the lives of people and their countries.

The statue of President Lincoln in Washington DC is a very large example of Roman symbolism. Sporting the Fasces cleverly incorporated into his seat but without the axe head on top, but still very clear what it represents.

The George Washington statue in Virginia State Capitol Near Washington DC also has the Fasces

It's a very predominant symbol, in a place that makes decisions that impacts the lives of people and their countries.

Where else can we see this symbolism. How about the UK?

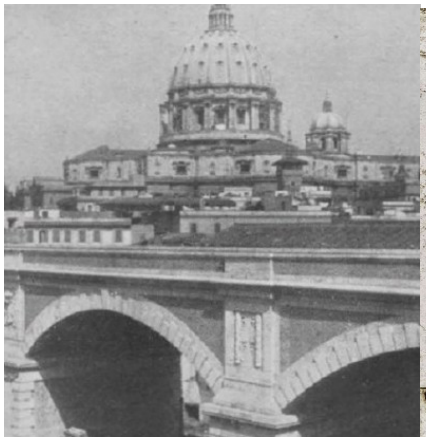
On the UK's Royal Golden horse Carriage, you can see a winged figure holding the Fasces in its arms, and yes,, they used real gold leaf on this Carriage.

The Royals are branding the Fasces plated in gold leaf, so it must be an important symbol to them. The famous Big Ben Clock in London parliament building also has a Fasces either side of the clock face.

Are they in the body of Rome? There is now a great deal of literature and proof that they are just that.

It's a very predominant symbol, in a place that makes decisions that impacts the lives of people and their countries.

The Vatican is showing the same symbolism of Rome as it would.



The Viaduct of the Vatican State Railway Line carries rail trains into the private back entrance of the Vatican, and has the Fasces above each bridge support.

It's a very predominant symbol, in a place that makes decisions that impacts the lives of people and their countries.

The Roman Stadiums

There are many Roman stadium ruins still standing today. These were places of sport, entertainment, fighting and tournaments. It was also a place were Christians and law breakers were persecuted.

It hasn't changed much today.....

Today we have sports events and yearly celebrations of various events in stadiums. It's highly likely we will see executions again in stadiums, as Governance all over the world is fast moving into Fascist communist dictatorship ways. With freedom of speech, and thought, being placed under laws and judgement, today's news headlines are often titled "Hate speech crime" and when you take a birds eye overview of how the world is progressing today, it's very clear Rome is still a big drive behind the scenes.

Rome never died. It rebadged itself and changed its image, and went straight back into its sinister old ways, and over the centuries has regained power influence and a hidden dominance.

There are other symbols that Rome, UK and USA share together such as the Knights Templar cross, and the Tudor Rose. At WIBC College there are courses on Symbolism in the world, as it is a big topic and it has a very clear connection with those that rule the worlds countries today.

The Pope, His Crown and Claims

The Vatican came up among divided Rome (Europe) and was established in Rome Italy. The crown warn by the pope is in fact three crowns in one. They symbolise three things.

Three crowns symbolise the triple power of the Pope: father of kings, governor of the world and Vicar of Christ)

Father of kings

Having once been subservient to secular rulers, serving largely at their pleasure, the pope had become essential to the coronation and legitimisation of the Catholic kings of Europe. The pope and church were elevated to such a degree that the bishop of Rome now claimed the authority to excommunicate or depose kings. The pope still has this authority today, its just hidden in law and agreements and declarations until they wish to use it.

Governor of the world

The dictionary defines “govern” in this way:

to officially control and lead (a group of people)
to make decisions about laws, taxes, social programs, etc., for (a country, state, etc.): to control the way that (something) is done to control or guide the actions of (someone or something).

Vicar of Christ

New Advent, the Catholic Encyclopedia, defines “Vicar of Christ” as, “A title of the pope implying his supreme and universal primacy, both of honour and of jurisdiction, over the Church of Christ.”

According to the same source, primacy is defined as, “The supreme episcopal jurisdiction of the pope as pastor and governor of the Universal Church.” And Episcopal jurisdiction is, “The right to guide and rule the Church of God.”

It's a very predominant symbol, in a place that makes decisions that impacts the lives of people and their countries.

By definition, it is clear that the papal tiara symbolises the Pope’s claim to universal political and religious authority.

The Arch bishop of Venice prior to becoming Pope Pius said;

> The Bishop of Rome is not only the representative of Jesus Christ, but he is Jesus Christ himself hidden under the veil of flesh.
> Dose the Bishop of Rome speak? It is Jesus Christ that speaks. Pope Pius

This entity claims to be God on earth, and also claims to be God ruling on earth. Has anyone heard of him casting out devils or healing the sick? Has he preformed any miracles? Jesus was teaching the word of God and true Gospel. The may very well be one of the many figure heads that bring in a new world dictatorship.

Where is the world heading towards today?

A One World: Government, Army and Religion. It's called the New World Order.

A world religion is underway now. The first blend is Chrislam. The Pope is pushing for a one world religion. The Popes announcement in 2024 stated all religions are pathways to God, yet some religions want other religions killed and gone from this earth. It's a Hypocrisy before it even begins.